Academic Performance is evaluated as an indication of a student's academic promise as reflected in academic course load; grade point average (GPA); class rank and standardized testing (SAT score).

Extra – Curricular Activities are an indication of a student's outside interests, talents and involvement in their community. Leadership positions in these organizations reflect his leadership potential.

Work Experience is an indication of a student's ability to handle multiple demands on his time. It is not necessarily an indication of financial need. While a student might participate in school and community activities during high school and not work; this does not mean he will not need financial assistance in order to pay for college.

Financial Need is considered based on the information provided by each applicant on the attached Financial Aid Form (Form B). This form is designed to learn as much as practicable about a family's ability to pay expenses at the college the student plans to attend. A student's choice of colleges should reflect his/her previous academic abilities and complement his career objectives.
