Information on the Fund

Q: What is the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund?

A: After our first few HealthVoices conferences, it became clear to us that we could do more to support the important work done by advocates every day to assist patients. So, we set out to help provide resources to extend and support the reach of these advocates, by creating the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund

Initiated at the Community Foundation of New Jersey (CFNJ), an organization established to assist individuals and businesses in opening charitable funds and establishing philanthropic legacies, the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund was created to support innovative efforts by health advocates to serve and assist patient communities. It will award projects that align with the Janssen charitable giving mission to advance healing for patients.

Q: Why was the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund created with CFNJ?

A: Janssen Pharmaceuticals Inc. established this fund at CFNJ to support innovative efforts by health advocates to further serve and assist patient communities. Specifically, the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund will fund innovative projects that:

- Engage, inform and empower patients
- Coalesce and strengthen the advocate community
- Create patient communities, combatting stigma and isolation
- Projects aimed at reaching communities that are often marginalized or excluded

Q: Who can apply for the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund?

A: All health advocates based in the United States are welcome to apply. The projects submitted for funding should be to benefit the public good of the patient and/or caregiver community and elements of the application should meet the following characteristics:

- Discrete in nature with an identified deliverable
- Can be focused on any chronic disease or across chronic diseases
- Recipient/organization must be based in the United States
- Recipient can be an individual or a 501c3 organization
- The requestor must attest that they do not expect to realize any personal financial benefit from the project.

Q: What are some past projects that have been funded?

A: Since launching the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund, we have funded 34 projects across diverse health conditions. Listed below are some examples of projects that have been funded in the past:

- Development and launch of websites bringing awareness to a condition or offering valuable resources, support community and comfort
- Awareness campaigns surrounding health conditions and the resources available
- Initiatives to celebrate the unique collaborative efforts of independent peer advocates of every health condition

- Efforts to translate existing content into other languages to extend reach and inclusion
- Initiatives to help inform and educate others about a health condition.
- Creation of a video resource library within existing social media platforms.
- Creation of an ebooklet to provide photos, motivation, info and facts to give education & support to patients.
- Creation of education videos to educate the public about a health condition
- Development of a podcast series
- Skill development activities to strengthen patient advocate abilities in the areas of writing and leadership
- Creation of tools to help patients see potential outcomes of decisions unique to their health condition

Q: How large are the awarded grants?

A: The total fund available for grants is $35,000. Award amounts will range from $2,000 - $6,000. Funding distribution is determined by CFNJ, with input provided by the HealtheVoices™ Impact Fund Advisory Committee, during the application review process. Janssen is not involved in the review, evaluation or awarding of grants.

Application Process and Eligibility

Q: I did not attend or participate in the HealtheVoices™ conference. Can I still apply?

A: Yes – anyone who advocates for a health condition or community may apply. Applicants did not have to apply for or attend HealtheVoices™ to be eligible.

Q: How do I apply?

A: Requests must be submitted through our online applications accessible at <https://cfnj.org/jnj/>. Paper requests will not be accepted. Individual applicants can choose to complete either a traditional application or a creative application. Both applications request the same information. The traditional application is a standard question and answer format whereas the creative application allows applicants to provide some of the required information using a creative format. Nonprofit applicants must submit the nonprofit application.

Advocates are required to submit an application that outlines a proposed project to support a patient community. Grants will be given to new, innovative ideas and are not given to support existing or ongoing advocate activities. You will need to provide the following information to complete the application:

Requestor Information:

- Legal name of requestor
- Mailing and email addresses
- Phone number

For Non-Profit Applicants:

- Current year Operating revenue and expenses
- Audited Financials or 990
- Listing of Board Members
- Website address and mission statement

Project Information:

- Detailed description of project, including objectives, expected outcomes, and how you will measure success
- Estimated number of individuals to be served through this project.
- Total amount of request and how the funding will be used
- A line item budget for the project
- Minimum amount needed to complete the project
- Defined deliverables and measurable outcomes
- Expected length of time to complete the project

Q: Can non-profits apply to the fund?

A: Yes, non-profits can apply to the fund using the non-profit application if they meet the following eligibility requirements:

- Have a board of a minimum of five independent members,
- Be in existence for at least two years,
- Filed either a 990 or 990-ez,
- Have a profile in GuideStar,
- Have minimum operating budget (annual expenses) of $15,000 but not more than $250,000

Q: When is the deadline to apply?

A: July 31, 2021

Q: When will recipients be announced?

A: Late October 2021

Q: How are recipients chosen?

A: CFNJ and HealtheVoices™ Impact Fund Advisory Committee look for projects that propose innovative ways to:

- Engage, inform and empower patients;
- Coalesce and strengthen the online advocate community;
- Target underserved populations or healthcare disparities;
- Have measurable outcomes identified; and/or
- Address high unmet areas with large scope of impact.

The review, evaluation and selection of the recipients, as well as funding distribution will be handled by CFNJ with input from the HealthVoices™ Impact Fund Advisory Committee, comprised of several experienced online patient and caregiver advocates selected for their advocacy efforts. Janssen is not involved in the application review or selection process.

The selection of projects for funding will be competitive based on the submitted applications. CFNJ with input from a peer advisory committee of patient and caregiver online advocates will assess each request to determine those programs which appear to have the strongest impact overall and which appear achievable based on the budget provided and funds available. Additionally, CFNJ and the advisory committee will review the public profile of each applicant to assess if their online efforts conflict with Johnson & Johnson values, which then would result in an ineligible for funding decision.

Q: Can an applicant submit a request for more than one project?

A: Yes, an applicant can submit more than one project for funding but only one project may receive funding. Separate applications should be submitted for each project to ensure all project related information is provided.

Demystifying the Application

Q: What do you mean by Measurable Outcomes?

A: When implementing a program or initiative, it is done with the intent of achieving some positive change. The resulting change is the outcome you are looking to achieve. The most compelling outcomes are both quantifiable as well as qualitative (i.e. stories about individual impact, information on the number of people impacted and how).

Q: What are appropriate expenses to include in the project budget required in the application?

A: The budget should include all direct expenses associated with completing the project. This can include your time to complete the project, valued using an hourly compensation rate of $25/hour, or otherwise calculated using a fair and objective rate of labor. Expenses can also include consultants, other direct costs for the design and implementation of the project. The project budget submitted should be equal to or more than the amount requested in the funding application.

Q: Can you provide further clarity on what you mean by unmet need?

A: Unmet need is a deficiency currently experienced, in this case for a patient community, that is not being tackled adequately by other means. In other words, despite the need, there are not any or enough programs addressing this deficiency effectively.

Q: Can you provide further clarity on what you mean by healthcare disparities?

A: The program or initiative is focused on addressing inequalities or gaps between the targeted audience versus the general population. For example, for certain diseases, there is significant data available that certain minority groups may come very late to diagnosis and treatment and thus their long-term survival outcomes are decreased.
