ASSET CLASSIFICATION

Holdings, market value and performance are displayed by asset class. In most cases, the value of all assets held in a separately managed account is displayed in the asset class corresponding to the investment strategy of the account. In those instances, the market value and performance displayed for each asset class may also include cash that is not separately reflected under Cash, Deposits and Money Market Funds. A description of our asset classification schema is available upon request and in the "Important Information" section of Goldman.com. The methodology used by Goldman Sachs to classify assets may differ from how external custodians may classify your External Assets.

PRICING AND VALUATION FOR GOLDMAN SACHS INVESTMENTS

Generally, prices for Goldman Sachs investments are as of the close of the last business day of the Consolidated Investment Summary period and do not necessarily reflect realizable values. Unless otherwise indicated, prices are obtained from third parties, including market data providers, and are based on information considered to be reliable, but are not guaranteed for accuracy.

If a current market price is unavailable and/or a security is not actively traded, for a period of time established by our stale pricing policy, which varies by asset class, the price displayed may be the last available market price or the cost basis for the position. At the expiration of that time-period, if a current market price is still unavailable, the price will be marked as "N/A" or "No Price." Positions appearing with a price of "N/A" or "No Price" are not reflected in the overall market value of your portfolio. Further information about our pricing and valuation practices is available upon request and in the "Important Information" section of Goldman.com.

For instruments issued in a currency that differs from the account's base currency, market values of positions held in the account are converted to base currency using foreign exchange rates from the last day of the current Consolidated Investment Summary period.

Valuations for structured investments (including notes issued and underwritten by Goldman Sachs or its affiliates, and notes issued and underwritten by third parties) represent the price at which the underwriter, or one of its affiliates, was prepared to execute a transaction up to an indicative bid size (generally USD 500,000 for U.S. structured notes and USD 100,000, or the foreign currency equivalent for non-U.S. structured notes) as of the close of the last business day of the Consolidated Investment Summary period. It does not represent the price at which Goldman Sachs, its affiliates, or a third party underwriter (if applicable) would currently execute such a transaction. If the underwriter price is unavailable, an alternative valuation (which is not necessarily realizable) may be substituted. The price displayed herein may change due to market conditions, the issuer's creditworthiness and other factors and, for U.S. registered notes, may exceed the underwriter's estimated value of your structured investments for a limited period as described in the relevant offering documents.

Valuations for private equity, private real estate, hedge funds and other alternative investments structured as private investment funds reflect an estimate of the value of your investment in the fund as provided by the fund administrator. Pricing for other alternative investments offered by Goldman Sachs (e.g., private placements of equity securities) may be provided by Goldman Sachs or a third party. These investments are generally illiquid, and the estimated value provided may not be realized if you were to seek to liquidate the investments at any point in time. If a value is not provided for an investment, valuation information may not be available. A partnership capital value statement is generally available upon request from your Private Wealth Management ("PWM") team.

For OTC derivative positions, positive values reflect the amount Goldman Sachs owes to you and negative values reflect the amount you owe to Goldman Sachs. Generally, the market value displayed for an OTC derivative position is a "Mid Price", which represents either (1) Goldman Sachs' good faith estimate of the mid-market value of the position as of the date of this statement based on estimated or actual prices and offers for the position or (2) a "mid-market price" generated by proprietary valuation models used by Goldman Sachs as of the last business day of the statement period. It does not represent a price at which Goldman Sachs would currently transact. Consistent with market practice, valuations for equity options and swaps, interest rates and credit are calculated to reflect the underlying funding curve that is associated with the collateral pledged on a single currency basis. The transaction price may include execution charges, such as spreads and/or other charges, incurred in connection with hedging the transaction. The difference between the valuation displayed herein and the actual price upon execution is based upon a number of factors, which may include (but may not be limited to) the creditworthiness of the parties, funding implications (including funding costs and / or benefits associated with any credit support or margin arrangement), portfolio-level adjustments, liquidity adjustments based on size and market disruption events. The valuation methodologies are subject to change without notice and the value displayed herein may not reflect valuations you would receive from other dealers, affiliates or business units of Goldman Sachs, or by using pricing models available from Goldman Sachs or valuations included in the books and records of Goldman Sachs.

PRICING AND VALUATION FOR EXTERNAL ASSETS

Generally, pricing for external assets is obtained from an outside vendor. Prices are not guaranteed for accuracy, currency or as realizable values. Goldman Sachs has not conducted any due diligence on the pricing of the external assets. The pricing obtained by the outside vendor for your External Assets may be different from the pricing used by the financial institution where the external assets are held. For any pricing on External Assets, you should consult with your particular financial institution.

RATINGS

Ratings are subject to change at the discretion of the applicable rating agency. The description of methodology employed in assigning ratings may be found on the applicable rating agency's website. If an applicable rating agency assigns more than one rating type (e.g., short term, long term, enhanced or underlier) to a security, Goldman Sachs chooses which to display based on a number of factors it deems reasonable in its sole discretion. Asset classification for fixed income securities is determined by the lowest rating displayed. Further information about ratings is available upon request.

PERFORMANCE

Investments in securities involve risk and the value of investments and income derived from such investments may fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide of future results. If performance is shown, it may include investments no longer owned in current or closed accounts. The performance report presents the relevant time weighted performance, which is a combination of daily returns compounded over a specified time-period with the removal of the deposit and withdrawal impacts. If requested, certain illiquid investments may show internal rate of return calculations. Aggregate performance may not equal the sum of returns at an investment or asset class level. Generally, performance for advisory accounts is currently calculated net of management fees, if any, and might include investments for which actual market prices are not available as of the date of this Consolidated Investment Summary. If requested, performance results may be provided gross of management fees and will be accompanied by net of management fee results. Private equity positions may be included in total performance calculations. Performance for alternative investments is calculated using the value of the last available partnership capital statement or NAV.

Over time, GS&Co. has adjusted how it calculates performance for certain asset classes or strategies and may again do so from time to time in the future. Information on historical performance calculations is available upon request. Performance of net cash (i.e., cash less margin debit) is generally included in the total performance calculation but not displayed separately. Option performance is included in the performance of the asset class of the underlier. Margin loans are generally excluded from advisory performance, but included in brokerage performance calculations.

References to market or composite indices, benchmarks, or other measures of relative market performance over a specified period of time ("benchmarks") are provided for informational purposes only. In addition to the benchmark assigned to a specific investment strategy, other benchmarks ("Comparative Benchmarks") may be displayed. Managers may not review the performance of your account against the performance of the Comparative Benchmarks. There is no guarantee that performance will equal or exceed any benchmark displayed. Where a benchmark for a strategy has changed, the historical benchmark(s) are available upon request. Inception to date ("ITD") returns for accounts or asset classes only reflect performance during periods in which your account(s) held assets and / or were invested in the asset class. The benchmark or reference portfolio returns shown reflect the benchmark / portfolio performance from the date of inception of your account or your initial investment in the asset class.

PERFORMANCE METHODOLOGY ON EXTERNAL ASSETS

GS&Co. applies its performance methodology for External Assets contained in this Consolidated Investment Summary. The performance methodology used by GS&Co. may be different from the performance methodology used by the financial institution where the External Asset is held. For actual performance on your External Assets you should refer to the official statement from the financial institution custodialing the External Assets.

ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENTS

Private equity, private real estate, hedge funds and other alternative investments structured as private investment funds are subject to less regulation than other types of pooled vehicles and may involve a substantial degree of risk, including the risk of total loss of an investor's capital, limited liquidity and leverage. Alternative investments may not be appropriate for all investors. Terms and conditions governing private investments are contained in the applicable offering documents, which also include information regarding the liquidity of such investments. Investors in private investment funds should review the Offering Memorandum, the Subscription Agreement and any other applicable disclosures for risks and potential conflicts of interest.

CASH SWEEP; MONEY MARKET FUNDS

Eligible clients may elect to automatically sweep excess available cash from their GS&Co. brokerage account to a GS Bank deposit account or money market fund. If cash held in your account is swept into a bank deposit account or money market fund, the balance in the bank deposit account or shares of the money market fund can be liquidated at your instruction and the proceeds returned to your account or remitted to you, subject to any notice requirements imposed by GS Bank on bank deposit account withdrawals as described in the GS Bank section of these disclosures. Money market funds seek to maintain a stable net asset value of $1 per share. There is no guarantee that they will be able to maintain this value.

ASSET-SERVICING EVENTS

Asset servicing events (e.g., stock splits, mergers) are generally reflected on this Consolidated Investment Summary as of the effective date (i.e., the date from which the corporate action is effective) and will be reflected under Quantity prior to payment date. This may result in certain positions (or portions thereof) being reflected on this Consolidated Investment Summary that have not yet been received by the firm. Asset servicing events such as stock dividends, which generally have payment dates extending beyond the normal settlement cycle, will only be reflected in your Quantity on payment date and will reflect as an accrual between effective date and payment date. Transactions with an "Unknown" Settlement Date are a result of asset servicing events with a payment date that is yet to be determined. Positions resulting from transactions with "Unknown" settlement dates generally are not available for trading.

ASSETS HELD AT A THIRD PARTY CUSTODIAN

Information (including valuation) regarding holdings and activity in accounts held by third party custodians may be included in this Consolidated Investment Summary as a courtesy to you and has been supplied by third parties or by you. GS&Co. assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of such information. Information and performance may differ from that reflected by your custodian and is as of the date of the materials provided to us. You should compare the information contained in this Consolidated Investment Summary with the statement you receive from your custodian. Certain products and services described herein will not be available to you if you chose to custody at a third party custodian.

ASSET PROTECTION

GS&Co. is a member of SIPC, which protects eligible assets in GS&Co. accounts held in the same title and capacity up to an aggregate maximum of $500,000, of which $250,000 may be in cash. For example, if you have an individual brokerage account and an individual advisory account, these accounts would be aggregated and jointly subject to the $500,000 SIPC limit. However, if you also held assets in a revocable trust account, these assets would not be aggregated with the individual accounts and would be eligible for an additional $500,000 of SIPC protection. SIPC does not protect against loss due to market fluctuation. GS&Co. also maintains excess SIPC insurance of up to $1,000,000,000 across all customers of GS&Co. Assets not held by GS&Co. (including interests in private funds and assets held at a third party custodian) and certain other assets may not be covered by SIPC and are not eligible for supplemental insurance coverage. Client-specific market positions are not eligible for the protection provided by SIPC or the Customer Protection Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-3 under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) or to any similar U.S. law applicable to custodians in the United States. Certain customers may be excluded from SIPC coverage, including Goldman Sachs managing directors and certain types of financial institutions. You may obtain information about SIPC, including a brochure describing SIPC and information about which assets are eligible for SIPC protection, by contacting SIPC via telephone at 202-371-8300 or accessing the SIPC website at www.sipc.org. Additional information is available upon request.

Free credit balances (i.e., cash held in any of your securities accounts and not swept to bank deposit or money market funds) are not segregated and may be used by GS&Co. in the conduct of business. Free credit balances are payable to you on demand.

MARGIN ACCOUNTS

Where an individual has multiple accounts with GS&Co., compliance with margin requirements will be computed on the basis of the combined margin transactions and collateral on deposit with GS&Co. as required by applicable regulation. Accounts combined for margin purposes may not be the same accounts included in this Consolidated Investment Summary. Your borrowing capacity is determined by the margin-eligible assets held in your account or other accounts that hold assets as collateral for your loan and the applicable regulatory and Goldman Sachs' initial and margin maintenance requirements. Please contact your Private Wealth Advisor at the number listed on the cover of your statement for your current borrowing capacity.

When you pledge securities in your margin account, some or all of the securities serving as collateral for that account may be used, lent or pledged by GS&Co. in accordance with U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") rules. When this occurs, certain rights of your ownership related to such securities may be transferred to GS&Co. or transferred by us to others. In certain Except as otherwise agreed in writing, if you trade OTC derivatives, your counterparty may re-pledge or otherwise use the collateral you post. In the event of the counterparty's failure, you will likely be considered an unsecured creditor as to that collateral and will not benefit from SEA Rule 15c3-3 or SIPC insurance.
